Reviews

*This pdf might be well worth a study, and a lot better than other. It really is simplistic but excitement inside the fifty percent in the book. Its been printed in an exceedingly straightforward way which is just after i finished reading this ebook through which really modified me, modify the way i believe.

Mr. Elliott presented a communication ON THE CREDIT OF THE UNITED STATES, PAST, PRESENT AND PROSPECTIVE. This communication will be published in another form. Remarks upon this paper were made by Messrs. Gill and W. B. Taylor, after which the Society adjourned. 217th Meeting. May 6, 1882. President Wm. B. Taylor in the chair. Twenty-eight members and visitors. The President announced to the Society the death of two of its members, Mr. William J. Twining, Major U. S. Engineers and Commissioner of the District of Columbia, and Mr. John Rodgers, Senior Rear Admiral U. S. Navy and Superintendent U. S. Naval Observatory. He further announced to the Society that the proposition for a federation of the Anthropological, Biological, and Philosophical Societies had been discussed by the General Committee, but that thus far no action had been taken. The first communication was by Mr. Elliott Coues, On The Possibilities Of Protoplasm. The following is an abstract of this communication, which has been published at greater length under the title-- Biogeu: a Speculation on the Origin and Nature of Life. Abridged from a paper on the Possibilities of Protoplasm, read before the Philosophical Society of Washington, May 6th, 1882. By Dr. Elliott Coues. Washington: Judd and Detweiler, printers and publishers. 1882. (8vo. , pp. 27.) Referring to previous papers on the subject of Life, by Mr. Woodward and Mr. Ward, the speaker opposed any purely chemico-physical theory, and adhered to the doctrine of the actual existence of..
